Dear Sir/Madam:

The 9th Meeting of Asia for Mushroom Science will be held in Jeju island, Korea, from October 25 to 28, 2017. On behalf of the organizing committee, we are very pleased to invite mushroom scientists from China, Japan and other countries. This meeting will provide a precious opportunity to discuss recent advances in and the near future of mushroom science. This meeting has recently been considered a prologue to international meetings for young scientists and students. We are arranging the meeting to offer a great opportunity for attendees to share in an academic exchange and deepen personal friendships.

The Jeju island is full of beauty with mountains, seas, winds, beaches, excellent seafood, and cultural and historical treasures. It is our sincere hope that everyone enjoys not only the meeting but also the beautiful Jeju. Please participate as fully as you wish. We look forward to seeing you there.

Sincerely yours,
